To The Rotary Club:

First and foremost, thank you for everything you have done. Everything is going well at Lehigh University. I'm excited, to say the least, for my last year but also terrified of the things to come. I feel the transition from school to business may be difficult, but hopefully it will only be a simple readjustment. I have been visiting the Office of Career Services and have been looking into job opportunities after school. I am getting a year ahead of myself though because my last year will be challenging.

The courses at Lehigh are difficult. Last year I spent countless hours doing computations or proving theorems. This year I look forward to doing the same. Although I find the problems difficult, I also find them rewarding. In fact, it seems I am naturally drawn to mathematics. I am currently working at John Hopkins University Center For Talented Youth as a Teaching Assistant in Mathematics. I spend most of the day in the classroom explaining and helping students with different concepts and ideas. To help prepare for teaching, I volunteered at the local middle school at their after school homework club. I love working with the students at both locations and I plan on continuing to volunteer during this next school year.

All of this is possible thanks to you and everyone at the Allentown Rotary Club. I wish to express my most sincere gratitude for everything you have done.

Sincerely,

Roland Nguyen
